Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 10 February 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL.                      2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

It should be noted that last Office Action was directed to claims 1-13, as the Preliminary Amendment filed on 12/1/2000 had not yet been entered that cancelled claims 2-13 and added claims 14-26. As such, the statements made by the Examiner with respect to claims 2-13 are moot. With regard to instant claim 1, Applicant's remarks have been deemed persuasive and the rejection of claim 1 under 35 USC 102(b) has been withdrawn. A new action on the merits follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 14-17 & 21-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by USP 6,458,754 to Velazquez et al. (herein referred to as "Velazquez").

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Velazquez teaches encapsulated perfume particles and detergent compositions made from High Impact Accord (HIA) perfume particles. The particles consist of a modified starch and perfume oil encapsulated by the starch and comprised of at least 2 HIA perfume ingredients which have a boiling point of 760 mmHg of 275 degrees C or lower, a calculated ClogP of 2.0 or higher, and an odor detection threshold less than or equal to 50 ppb. See abstract. Of the perfume ingredients in a given perfume oil, at least 40% are HIA perfume ingredients (col. 4, lines 44-46). The detergent compositions may comprise 0-50% of the modified starch encapsulated HIA perfume particles. The detergent composition may further comprise bleaching additives (col. 9, lines 20-23, 60). The perfume particles may be incorporated into the detergent by dry-mixing. The perfume may be deposited onto fabric surfaces, which may include different types of fabric components (col. 10, lines 45-68).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1743

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 18-20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Velazquez.

Velazquez fails to teach that the modified starch solid matrix is made by treating the starch raw material with octenyl-succinic acid anhydride. These claims have been deemed to be product-by-process claims because the product appears to be the same as that taught by Velazquez.

Even though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process. Once the Examiner provides a rationale tending to show that the claimed product appears to be the same or similar to that of the prior art, although produced by a different process, the burden shifts to applicant to come forward with evidence establishing an unobvious difference between the claimed product and the prior art product. See MPEP 2113.
